NO LYNCHING IN BLADEN.

Reported Summary Punishment Visited Upon Davis and Son Is Incorrect—Mr. Singletary Doing Well.

There was much inquiry in the city yesterday for developments in the matter of the supposed lynching of Ed Davis and his son, near Bladenboro, in Bladen county. It now appears from advice from Bladenboro and Clarkston that Davis and his son met with no foul play and disappeared from home to avoid arrest. The causes which led up to the shooting and the subsequent mysterious disappearance of the man and his son were reviewed at length in these columns yesterday morning.

A telegram to the STAR from a thoroughly reliable source at Clarkston last evening says: "Reports of the lynching of Ed Davis and his son are untrue. Both are at large. Much excitement."

Mr. Singletary, the gentleman who was shot and lost his right eye by the wound, spent a very quiet day at the hospital here and is believed to be out of danger. He will possibly be able to return home this week.

Wilmington Warehouse Company Held Stockholders' Meeting Yesterday.

THE DIRECTORS ELECTED.

Capable Business Men at Head of New Enterprise—Committee Appointed to Choose Site for the Buildings Board Meets To-Day.

The first meeting of the stockholders in the Wilmington Tobacco Warehouse Company, recently chartered by the Secretary of State, with an authorized capital stock of $100,000, was held yesterday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce. Thirty-two of the sixty-eight shareholders, representing a large majority of the stock in the institution, were present.

The meeting was organized by the election of Mr. W. B. Cooper chairman and Mr. James Kyle secretary. The following other gentlemen were present: Messrs. M. S. Willard, B. F. Hall, Geo. R. French, Geo. O. Gaylord, Walker Taylor, M. W. Jacob, N. Jacob, J. B. Mercer, L. C. Sutton, Ike Bear, I. Shrier, C. M. Whitlock, G. J. Boney, Gabriel Holmes, H. L. Vollers, J. H. Walters, J. A. Taylor, Thos. H. Wright, S. Solomon, H. E. Bonitz, J. Van B. Metts, W. O. Peterson, H. W. Konig, Jno. H. Rehder, J. V. Grainger, R. H. Pickett, John E. Crow, R. O. Sellers, J. S. Westbrook and Frank Andrews, of Jacksonville, N. C.

When it was ascertained that a majority of the stock was represented, Mr. Geo. R. French read a draft of by-laws, which was accepted by the incorporators.

The following board of nine directors, suggested by Mr. French and recommended by the incorporators, was unanimously elected: Messrs. Geo. O. Gaylord, W. E. Worth, W. B. Cooper, S. P. McNair, H. L. Vollers, M. W. Jacob, B. R. Stone, J. H. Walters, and Frank Andrews, of Jacksonville. Upon motion of Mr. M. S. Willard and second by Mr. Thos. H. Wright, the secretary cast the unanimous vote of the meeting for the Board.

For the selection of a site for the warehouse, etc., Mr. French suggested the following committee: Messrs. W. E. Worth, Duncan McEachern and W. B. Cooper. The suggestion was unanimously adopted.

A long discussion was then entered into as to the capital stock needed for the beginning of business. It was pointed out to those who had gone carefully into the matter, that only a comparatively small capital would be required for the first year but that the same should be increased from year to year as the business develops. According to the terms of the charter the capital stock may be increased at any time to not exceeding $100,000.

It was at length decided after several motions, amendments and severals, to make the capital stock, paid in, $15,000 and the directors were authorized to begin business when $10,000 is subscribed and ten per cent. of that amount is paid in.

The meeting lasted for two hours during which the tobacco situation was gone over very thoroughly. The directors of the new company are men of unquestioned ability and the enterprise promises to succeed from the start.

The new board met immediately upon the adjournment of the stockholders, but it was decided to postpone the election of a president until to-day. It is well understood that Mr. W. E. Worth will be the man. The directors will meet from time to time and arrange for the beginning of business right away as already there is enough capital subscribed, or very nearly so.

LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE.

Line Worked Perfectly to New York Yesterday—Southport Connection Ready for Use—Underground System.

The long distance telephone lines out of Wilmington are fast "limbering up" and the local commercial world is taking right hold of this new method of rapid communication with distant cities. Yesterday Manager McManus, of the local exchange, had two very satisfactory conversations over the line with parties in New York. One in the forenoon was with General Manager W. T. Gentry and Treasurer D. I. Carson, of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co., and one in the afternoon was with Mr. E. E. Bawel, superintendent of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company. The communication was in ordinary tone of voice and every syllable was perfectly audible. Mr. McManus was enthusiastic over the splendid connection.

The Bell Company has just completed a long distance connection with Mr. Pembroke Jones' handsome country estate, "Arlie," on the Sound. The line, of course, is for Mr. Jones' private use. By the same metallic circuit, connection is also had with the city exchange in Wilmington.

The Southport line is now also in first class working order. There were several business conversations over the wires to that point yesterday. The toll is 15 cents and communication can be had only from pay stations.

ENGINEER'S RESIDENCE ENTERED.

Mr. J. M. Williams Came Upon a Negro in His Home—Gun Shot.

Mr. J. M. Williams, the popular Coast Line engineer who runs between Wilmington and Sanford and who lives on Ninth, between Market and Dock streets, had an exciting experience with a burglar as he came home yesterday morning about 1 o'clock from his usual trip up the road.

As Mr. Williams entered his residence a mulatto darted by him through the front door and into the streets before he had hardly time to recover himself. Entrance was effected through a window, and the burglar had taken the precaution to unlock the door in case of the emergency which came. Mr. Williams called for his pistol, but in the meantime the negro had escaped.

At first it was thought nothing had been stolen, but yesterday afternoon it was found that a single-barreled breech-loading gun was missing. The breech had a brass wire wrapped around it, and it is thought this mark will lead to its recovery. Mr. Williams says that going home yesterday morning, about a block from his house, he passed another negro, evidently on watch, standing on corner of Ninth and Market streets.

DEATH OF WELL-KNOWN CITIZEN.

Mr. David James Nixon, of Topsail Sound, Passed Away Wednesday Evening.

Friends in the city learned yesterday with profound sorrow of the death of Mr. David James Nixon, a prominent citizen of Topsail Sound, which occurred at 6:30 o'clock Wednesday evening. Mr. Nixon was well known in Wilmington and was of a prominent Eastern North Carolina family. He was in the 77th year of his age and had been in feeble health for a long time. His death was due to a complication of diseases.

Deceased is survived by two sons, Messrs. Thos. E. Nixon and J. A. Nixon, the last named of this city, and five daughters, Misses Henri, Rowena, Rachel and Mary Nixon, of Topsail, and Mrs. Charles Sparkman, of Rocky Point. A sixth daughter, Miss Colina Nixon passed away about a week ago.

The funeral was conducted from the residence yesterday afternoon and the interment was in the family burying ground on Topsail Sound.

Flowers and Strawberries

The horticultural editor of THE MORNING STAR received yesterday from Mr. W. F. Alexander some ripe strawberries. "They were very fine and fresh from the vine." But the horse editor was even more fortunate. He received some beautiful flowers. "From whom?" Well, as these fellows who make their living by examining witnesses say, "That's a leading question." The flowers came from a rare and radiant rooter who understands the game; and as the horse editor has no desire to be "knocked out of the box" or to be made the victim of an ignominious "shot-out," he will show his discretion by not "calling names."

Mr. McClintic's Successor.

The Southport Standard of yesterday says: "Dr. T. B. McClintic, Quarantine Physician here, received orders yesterday of his transfer from this post to the Hygienic Laboratory at Washington, D. C. It is regretted very much here that Dr. McClintic is to leave. He has been here two years and eight months, and has made many friends, who regret to see him leave. Dr. McClintic expects to leave within a few days for his new post. His successor will be Dr. Lunsden D. Fricks, formerly of Georgia, now from Boston, Mass."

GEN. GORDON HERE.

Confederate Veterans of Wilmington Gave Him a Royal Welcome Last Evening.

LECTURE IN THE ACADEMY.

Story of the "First Days of the Confederacy" Told by One Eminent Qualified to Speak—Military Escort and a Cannon Salute.

There can be no doubt of the cordiality of the reception extended by Cape Fear Camp, United Confederate Veterans, and the militia organizations of the city, to General John B. Gordon upon his appearance here last evening to deliver his famous lecture "First Days of the Confederacy" in the Academy of Music. The true the crowd which heard Gen. Gordon in the Academy was not large and a financial loss to the management resulted, but the private reception of the gallant Confederate chieftain was most hospitable indeed.

General Gordon arrived in the city from Washington, N. C., on the southbound train at 6:30 o'clock in the evening. He was met at the station by a detachment of prominent members of Cape Fear Camp, U. C. V., headed by Col. W. J. Woodward, the commander. The distinguished visitor was escorted to The Orton where he was entertained as a guest of the committee on reception. Many of the gallant leader's former comrades called upon him during the evening and at 8 o'clock the Camp in uniform marched in front of the hotel, some fifty or more in ranks. The Wilmington Light Infantry in command of Capt. A. P. Adrian and Lieut. N. E. Gillilan and Geo. P. James, also formed near the entrance to the hotel, and as Gen. Gordon stepped from the piazza, the loyal "old rebs" gave with much spirit "Three Cheers for General Gordon!" The Light Infantry with no less zeal also gave three rousing cheers for the Confederate leader, and as the procession, headed by the distinguished lecturer and the reception committee, moved toward the Academy of Music, a gun crew from the Wilmington Division, Naval Reserve, fired a general salute from their one-pound Hotchkiss gun, stationed near the armory on Princess street.

General Gordon was received by the audience assembled at the Academy with enthusiastic applause, mingled with a patriotic rendition of "Dixie" by Hollowbush's excellent orchestra. The stage was effectively decorated with Confederate flags in pleasing arrangement. Those who had seats upon the platform with the speaker were Capt. W. R. Kennan, Rev. J. R. Marshall, Mr. Sol Bear, Col. W. J. Woodward, Brigadier General James I. Metts and Dr. E. Porter, of Rocky Point.

To Capt. Metts fell the pleasant duty of presenting the lecturer, whom he said needed no introduction to a Southern audience. He then spoke of the great service of General Gordon to his country in war times and in peace and gracefully introduced him as a gentleman, statesman, soldier and orator.

It was several minutes before Gen. Gordon could proceed for the applause was warm in the extreme. He thanked the people of Wilmington and his comrades for the cordial reception and his friend, Capt. Metts, for the kind words spoken by him in his introduction.

His lecture, "First Days of the Confederacy," gave infinite pleasure to his hearers. Many who had heard his famous lecture, "Last Days of the Confederacy," said that if anything, his second effort was better than his first. He recounted the various causes which led up to the bloody conflict of 1861-1865. His words touched a responsive chord in the heart of every veteran of those trying times of which he spoke and to the younger generation his discourse was interesting and instructive. His treatise of the subject in hand was eminently fair to both sides of the bloody controversy and there was nothing in word or tone to offend either the veteran of the blue or the gray.

When Gen. Gordon had concluded his splendid lecture many persons in the audience, including the ladies, went upon the stage and gave the distinguished guest assurances of their very high regard.

The orchestra discoursed programmes of well selected music both before and after the lecture.

Funeral of Mr. B. A. Jones.

The funeral of Mr. Benj. A. Jones, who died Wednesday evening at his home, No. 802 Castle street, was conducted at 3:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon from St. Thomas' Catholic church in the presence of many friends. The STAR was in error yesterday in giving the name of the deceased gentleman as Mr. Mark A. Jones, who is a son of the deceased, at whose home the aged citizen died.

Col. Rodman to Retire.
Raleigh News and Observer: "It is understood that Col. W. B. Rodman, in charge of the Second Regiment of the State Guard, will not stand for reelection in December when the biennial election of officers of the State Guard takes place. He, it is said, will seek to be placed on the retired list after his service of twenty years in the State Guard."

IN BUSY POLICE CIRCLES.

Eleven Offenders Sent to Higher Court in Ten Days—Gamblers on Trial Yesterday—Arrests.

Mayor pro tem. Cooper yesterday had another imposing array of offenders in his court; in fact, the Mayor pro tem's court docket has been crowded each day of his late incumbency. During the past ten days 11 cases have been sent over to the higher court, to say nothing of a multiplicity of minor matters that were disposed of by sentencing the defendants to terms on the roads and by the imposition of fines and costs.

Yesterday Marshall Stallings, colored, on suspicion of having stolen pistols from the store of the Jacob Hardware Co., was discharged for want of evidence. Bill Smauser, colored, for disorderly conduct at Samarian Hall, was let off with the cost; Ernest Blount, colored, for gambling, was sent to jail in default of $25 bond for his appearance at next week's term of court, and a case against Logan McKoy, colored, for indulging in the same game, was continued for the same time. McKoy was represented by Herbert McClammy, Esq. Henry Myers, colored, was charged with an assault and battery with a deadly weapon upon Ed. Smith, colored, and a part of the testimony was heard, but his case was likewise continued for witnesses.

FIND THEIR INDIAN ATTENDANT.

WHEN THE WORM TURNED

[Copyright, 1902, by C. B. Lewis.]

"Dave, ar' yo' gwine to beat me, same as all the rest of the men around yere beat their wives?"

"Reckon so," he replied.

"But I want to tell yo' befo' we get married that yo'—yo' hadn't better."

"Why?"

"'Cause I won't abide it."

"'Shoo! 'Shoo!"

"'Cause if yo' ever wallop me I'll dun have yo' life for shore!"

"Then maybe I won't," he said.

The next day they were married, and Linda went to the new "shack," three miles away, to live. It was little she carried with her, and there were no goodbyes as she left the tumble down cabin in which she was born. They were probably as happy as the average squatter bride and groom, and had it not been for one thing Dave had never been so happy.

He had not been so happy as he had been when he had married Linda. He had not been so happy as he had been when he had married Linda. He had not been so happy as he had been when he had married Linda.

SEA FLOWERS AS PETS.

The Quaker Little Creatures Known as Anemones.

The quaker little creatures in the world are kept in a beautiful row of clear, flashing, round glass tanks on an upper floor of a large aquarium. As you approach the tanks you behold glowing little groups of color and anemone blending and mingling of fantastic weeds and shining stones. Then when you peer into the tanks you see what at first seem to you like particularly handsome and gorgeous flowers growing all over the little rockeries. Some of the flowers look like dainty pink and white and yellow and purple and crimson daisies. Others look almost like the little star flowers, all pure white and perfect. These flowers are of all sizes, from tiny ones barely large enough to see to great ones almost large enough to fill a saucer.

But if you will watch these "flower-ers" for a few minutes you will jump suddenly, for all at once you will see one move its petals. Then you will see another and another do it. Slowly the petals unfold, the water contracts, little jerking movements, sometimes twining in the water like snakes.

Tap smartly on the table on which the tanks stand, and like lightning all the petals will have disappeared. These sea flowers are really not flowers at all. They are living creatures, known as sea anemones.

For many years a scientist has tended and fed these and the little animated flowers actually have come to know him. When he feeds them, he puts a little bit of fish on the end of a long pointed stick and puts it carefully down into the water until it is near the anemone. It did not take long for the beautiful things to understand it, and whereas at first they used to withdraw their petals and shut up tightly when the stick approached, now they twine gracefully and stretch their dainty arms out as far as they can go in order to reach it.—London Answers.

LONDON CAB SERVICE.

Why It Is the Best and the Cheapest.

"Everyone knows, either from experience or hearsay, that the cab service in London is the best and cheapest in the world, but few of us know why. So when I was over there I made it a point to find out.

The woman who occupied the other seat in the hansom looked as if she would like to hear the result of his investigation. "It is really due," he continued, "to the fact that licenses to drive cabs and buses through the London streets are hard to get. An applicant must furnish the most satisfactory proof of his ability as a driver, and his references are carefully verified. Then he undergoes such a rigid examination as to his knowledge of streets and localities that but little more than half the candidates manage to pull through it. Those who do are then tested as to their ability to drive through the crowded thoroughfares, the test being a practical one, with an inspector of police, who is himself an expert driver, seated by the side of the would-be driver as he threads his way through the jam. Probably 20 per cent of the applicants come to grief during this test, and the importance of returning all articles left in his cab to headquarters without delay and to the satisfaction of the inspector is emphasized. The result is comparative safety to the passengers in cabs and a reasonable certainty that there will be no attempt upon the 'cabbies' part to overcharge his fare."—New York Tribune.

FIRE AT SAN FRANCISCO.

Southern Pacific Boat and Ferry Slips and Other Property Destroyed—Loss Estimated at $450,000.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The Southern Pacific boat and ferry slips at the end of the Alameda mole, which extends far into the bay from the eastern shore, were totally destroyed by fire early to day. The fire broke out from some unknown cause soon after the ferry boat Oakland had reached the slip on her last trip from this city. It was about 1 o'clock and the kitchen crew of the steamer had retired to their lodging in a small structure near the end of the pier. Suddenly the flames burst out, quickly spreading through the depot, a big building of wood and glass. The upper works of the Oakland caught fire and her captain was forced to cut loose and leave her crew behind.
The burning slips were inaccessible for fire engines from the Alameda county shore, but two fire-boats were dispatched to the scene from this city and succeeded in containing the flames to the end of the mole. Train Dispatcher Walker estimates the loss at from $450,000 to $500,000. The sides of the slips and buildings, eight broad gauge passenger coaches and twenty narrow gauge coaches were burned. Nine men who were asleep in a bank house narrowly escaped with their lives. Victor Della Santa, of Alameda, who was sleeping on a pile driver, is missing and the pile driver was burned. It is feared that he was asleep and perished either in the flames or by drowning.

COTTON MILL MERGER PARTY

Will Hold All Future Meetings in Greensboro—Committee in Session.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Nov. 20.—A special to the Observer from Greensboro, N. C., says:
The cotton mill merger party has concluded to hold all future meetings at Greensboro. The executive committee began again the formal sessions here at the Benbow hotel to day, and good progress is being made in selecting desirable properties to include in the merger of consolidation. Originally it was stated that only eighty mill properties had signed the agreement, and out of the list the executive committee agreed or had authority to eliminate all those not in the opinion of the committee on a financial basis sufficiently strong in their estimation to be desirable for purchase outright or for merger. The committee has been in session now at Greensboro, Raleigh, Charlotte and Wilmington on this business and already has passed favorably upon more than thirty-five properties, showing that a much larger number than originally signed the agreement has come in since the formal publication of the object of the merger.
The cotton mill men present here to day are James K. Mebane, H. W. Scott, Graham, Clement, the late attorney John W. Fries, H. Fries, Winston-Salem; S. B. Tanner, Henrietta; Ernest Watkins, Rameau; A. W. Haywood, Haw; W. R. Slagg, Durham. Others are expected.
The committee expects to conclude its work to-morrow, but the official list of the mill properties accepted by the committee will have to be sent to financial headquarters in New York for approval, and will not be definitely known before January 1st, at the earliest.

ILLEGAL DISTILLERIES

Destroyed by Revenue Officers in Greenville County, S. C.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
CHARLOTTE, S. C., November 20.—The News and Courier special from Greenville, S. C., says:
A record-breaking raid was made last night by a party of revenue officers and State constables on the dark corner sections of this county. The officers destroyed six large illicit distilleries, seventy-five fermenters, eight thousand gallons of beer and mash and sixteen cases of new wines. Three of the stills were found in operation, but the moonshiners in charge escaped, being warned by sentinels of the approach of the raiding party by signal yells and repeated firing of guns. The party was composed of Deputy Collector Adams, Deputy Marshal Putnam, Constables Cooley, Allen and Bell.

LYNCHING IN ARKANSAS.

Negro Charged With Assault Taken From Officers By a Mob

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
WYNN, ARK., Nov. 20.—Lige Wells, a negro, charged with assaulting Max Campbell, an Iron Mountain passenger conductor, with a knife and slightly wounding him, was taken from the officers to-night by a mob of armed men and it is reported that he was lynched. The officers had just boarded the train with their prisoner at this point, to take him to the county jail at Forest City, when a dozen armed men entered the coach and forced the officers to give up the negro. The mob then left for the swamp country south of Wynn, with the avowed intention of lynching Wells. Information received at a late hour to-night tends to show that the mob carried out its plan.

NEGRO LYNCHED BY INDIANA MOB.

Taken From a Sheriff's Posse By an Armed Mob of Fifty Men.

HE ASSAULTED TWO WOMEN. Officers Resisted But Were Overpowered. Negro Was Identified by His Victims. Troops Ordered Out, But Too Late to Prevent Lynching.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
SULLIVAN, IND., Nov. 20.—James Moore, the negro who assaulted Mrs. Mary Davis, of Sullivan county, and Mrs. J. Lemon, of Knox county, was taken from the sheriff by a mob at 5 o'clock. He was captured at Robinson, Ill., yesterday and was brought here late this afternoon by Sheriff Dudley and several deputies. A mob of forty men, armed with revolvers and shot-guns, met the sheriff and his posse.

Sheriff Dudley and the negro, accompanied by deputies, came here in a wagon and attempted to steal into town unobserved. The mob was warned of their coming and the sheriff drove up to the jail the mob ran from hiding places and overpowered the officers. The deputies were released by the mob, Moore begged piteously for mercy. The mob beat him over the head with revolvers. He was dragged to the rear of the town and thrown into a wagon. The mob then followed after the wagon and he was taken to the homes of his victims in the country, where he shall be identified by the lynchings in Mrs. Lemon's yard, ten miles from here.

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Nov. 20.—Governor Larkin has ordered out the militia company at Vincennes to protect the negro Moore now held at Lemon's farm, near Oak Grove. It is understood here that a mob has been gathered and is now moving toward Oak Grove bent on lynching the negro.

Hanged by the Mob
SULLIVAN, IND., November 20.—James Moore, the Kentucky negro, who criminally assaulted Mrs. Mary Davis, of Sullivan county, and Mrs. John Lemon, of Knox county, on Tuesday last, was hanged to a telegraph pole to-night by a mob.

Moore was captured at Lawrence, Ill., late yesterday, after a battle with the town marshal, during which the negro was shot three times and severely wounded. He was taken to Robinson, Ill., for safe-keeping. Late this afternoon the negro was brought to Sullivan in a wagon by the sheriff and by the time he was taken to the gallows, a mob of forty or fifty farmers, heavily armed, took the prisoner from the officers. The negro was taken to the homes of both his victims and by them was identified. From the home of Mrs. Lemon, ten miles east of here, the crowd started back to Sullivan with the prisoner, but a mile east of the town a mob of men, armed over the arm of a telegraph pole and the negro was hung.

The governor had ordered out the Vincennes militia company to protect the negro, but his instructions were received too late. After hanging the negro the mob quietly dispersed. It was composed mostly of farmers, but was largely augmented by citizens of Sullivan, Oak Grove and other towns of this county.

SLAUGHTER OF BIRDS.

Forty Thousand Recently Killed in North Carolina for Millinery Purposes.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The American Ornithologists' Union to-day decided to hold its next convention at Philadelphia, November 18th, 1903. The old committee on bird protection was reappointed with the addition of William F. Miller, of New Orleans, and Professor T. Edgar Pearson, of North Carolina. Prof. Wm. Dutcher, of New York, chairman of the committee on protection of North American birds, advocated an international conference for bird protection. The committee reported that 18,000 snow buntings were recently found in cold storage in New York city, and that forty thousand game birds, mostly sandpipers, were recently killed on the North Carolina coast for millinery purposes and their bodies thrown away.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—Active efforts are to be continued by the Audubon Societies of the United States to assist the State authorities in enforcing the law against the killing of plumage birds and their use by milliners. To this end a committee of four persons, consisting of Professor T. Edgar Pearson, of New York, Frank N. Chapman, of Wilmer, Stone and Dr. T. S. Palmer, has been appointed to visit seven of the principal States in which they are slaughtered and give practical assistance to authorities in the identification of plumage birds and the prosecution of persons who may be found shooting them. Professor Dutcher assisted to the Audubon Societies of the United States.

U. S. COURT AT CHARLOTTE.

Special Term Convened to Try the Asheville Bank Cases.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
CHARLOTTE, Nov. 20.—A special term of the United States court was convened in this city to-day, Judge Henry C. McDowell presiding, to try the Asheville bank cases. The case against Wm. E. Breeze, who is charged with defrauding the First National Bank of Asheville out of $110,000, was the first called and one witness was examined. Senator J. F. Fritchard is one of the attorneys for the defendant. The witness examined to-day was S. T. Dorsett, the paying teller of the First National Bank. The prosecution sought to prove by the witness that Breeze gave checks on the bank after his account had been overdrawn $5,000, and that these checks were paid. The trial of the Asheville Bank cases, Dickinson and Penland may occupy more than two weeks.

MISSING COAL BARGES.

The Prairie Still in Search of Those Lost Off Hatteras.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
WASHINGTON, November 20.—The commandant of the Norfolk navy yard has been directed to place the collier Marcellus in commission and man her with a merchant captain and crew. The Prairie is still in search of the four coal barges lost off the Hatteras coast. A merchantman arriving at Baltimore reported having sighted one of them. As they were to be used to aid the colliers in coaling the fleet, it may be necessary to send other barges or colliers South to enable the rapid coaling of the fleet in the Caribbean.

THE NICARAGUA CANAL PROJECT

Check in the Negotiations With Colombia Gives Encouragement to Its Friends. New Treaty Possible

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The check in the negotiations with Colombia relative to the Panama canal has given great encouragement to the friends of the Nicaragua project, and the first evidence of renewed activity on their part was the appearance of the State Department to-day at Senator Cotes, Nicaraguan minister to Washington. Secretary Hay has never taken the ground that the negotiations with Nicaragua and Costa Rica were terminated by the passage of the Spooner act.

It is now said that Secretary Hay may proceed to draw a treaty with Nicaragua and Costa Rica on the lines of the protocols laid before the last Senate, and submit it to the Senate at its next session along with such a treaty with Colombia as may be made to conclude. In this way the Senate itself might decide whether or not the Colombian treaty is satisfactory and if it should decide in the negative, then it will have at hand the Nicaragua-Costa Rica treaties so that there will be no excuse for delay in the canal project.

As for the Colombian negotiations, it can be stated that the United States has now gone to the practical end of the concessions it is willing to make. It has received from Colombia a memorandum noting a number of objections to its proposed treaty. Some of these have been admitted to be well founded, but the great majority are regarded as either in contradiction of the terms of the Spooner act or inadmissible for other reasons.

The State Department does not regard the objections lodged by Colombia as material; the Colombians on their part think that they are vital. Such for instance, is the difference over the tenure of the canal. The Colombians say that would be a violation of their constitution. But a careful reading of the Colombian constitution by the State Department, they say, shows that there is any such prohibition against alienation of territory as is represented.

THE FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Socialists Came Near Securing Control of the Convention—President Gompers Completely Exonerated.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 20.—The Socialists came within four hundred votes of securing the control of the convention of the American Federation of Labor to-day. The struggle lasted almost the entire day and many a speech was made on both sides, notably those of A. Hayes, James Duncan and President Gompers against the Socialists and Victor Berger, Max Hayes and W. B. Wilson for the Socialists. The resolution introduced by Delegate Berger and amended by Delegate Wilson in a manner acceptable to the Socialists, was adopted by a vote of 1,434 in favor of the Socialists and 1,344 in favor of the American Federation of Labor.

The convention was to-day completely exonerated of the charge of infidelity to the principles of trades unionism said to have been made by Theodore J. Shaffer, president of the Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers. The special committee which conducted the investigation reported that when Mr. Shaffer appeared before it he declared that he had not at any time, either in writing or otherwise, made any charges against Mr. Gompers of infidelity to trades unionism, nor did he desire to before the committee.

P. J. Sheridan, who brought up in the convention the resolution which resulted in the investigation, was also present at the hearing and was asked if it was true that Mr. Shaffer had made any charges before the last convention of the Iron, Steel and Tin Workers against Mr. Gompers and he replied that he had. Mr. Sheridan denied it. Mr. Sheridan offered to read the minutes of the meeting at which the charges were said by him to have been made. Mr. Shaffer objected to this because the minutes were those of a secret meeting, and if read by Mr. Sheridan it would involve him into trouble with the law. The committee, dividing the inner workings of the convention.

The convention decided that the question of Mr. Sheridan was something with which it had nothing to do, and there being no charges against Mr. Gompers there was nothing to do but return to the order of the day. Mr. Gompers was completely exonerated. This was done and the report was adopted by the convention.

CONDITIONS IN THE COAL MINES

As Described by the Witnesses Before the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission.

WORKERS HEALTH IMPAIRED. Their General Condition is Below Par. Their Lives Shortened—The Principal Ills Suffered—The Employment of Children.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
SCRANTON, PA., Nov. 20.—The economic and sociological features of the anthracite coal industry, the employment of children and the health of the mine workers were the principal subjects brought before the arbitration committee to-day by the attorneys of each side to the controversy. While there was an entire absence of oratory or brilliant cross-examination which marked the proceedings during the last few days, the cross-examination nevertheless closely held the attention of the commissioners and they gained much information on the features touched upon by witnesses.

The afternoon session was particularly interesting because it brought out much expert testimony on the question of the health of the mine workers. Three physicians, who have practiced in Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, took the stand for the miners and in substance testified that the occupation of a mine worker was "very unhealthy" and shortened his life. One physician, Dr. Frank P. Lenahan, of Wilkes-Barre, who says he has had a long experience among mine workers, testified that fully 90 per cent. of the men who work in the mines are anemic. Their health is impoverished. The general condition of the mine workers is below par, and the principal ill suffered by the miners, the physicians said, was the mine worker's asthma, which comes from coal dust, powder smoke and vitiated air. Dr. John O'Malley, of Scranton, said that at least 80 per cent. of the mine workers have asthma, and Dr. Lenahan testified he had personal knowledge of a man coughing up coal dust nine years after he left the mines. It was also stated that ninety per cent. of miners who reach the age of fifty years are afflicted with some form of rheumatism.

The cross-examination of Rev. Dr. Peter Roberts, D. D. of Mahanoy City, Pa., who testified the anthracite coal industry and written a book on the subject, ended to-day and he left the witness stand shortly after the noon hour. The doctor said yesterday. Copious extracts from his book were read and placed on record.

Ex-Congressman Simon P. Wolfert, counsel for the Reading company, took the stand to-day and testified to violence in the 1900 strike, and also read articles written by Dr. Roberts during the progress of the strike, in which he described the strike in strong language as acts of violence, intimidation and boycotting committed during that suspension. His articles were read by the doctor, and he also branded the U. S. action in calling out the steam men in June as "foolhardy."

In explaining his articles, Dr. Roberts said that he did not wish to infer that the organization was responsible for all the lawlessness committed. The doctor said yesterday that newspaper accounts exaggerated the amount of the lawlessness in the coal regions, but Mr. Wolfert's reading of Dr. Roberts' descriptions of the serious acts of violence and boycotting afforded much amusement for the attorneys for the coal companies.

Dr. Roberts gave it his opinion that the U. S. action in calling out the steam men to have non-violent men form a separate organization were instigated by parties opposed to organized labor.

In attempting to show that carelessness of the miners contributes materially to the danger of his occupation, Chairman Gray interposed with the remark that the doctor's opinion was not to be taken into account when estimating the dangerousness of any hazardous occupation.

The fact was brought out in the course of the cross-examination that the Pennsylvania law requires that all men employed in the coal mines must pass a compulsory education law applying to every child under 16 years, and that under its provisions parents of children under 14 years of age are required to have them attend school.

Answering a question by Commissioner Parker, Dr. Roberts said that of sixty-four children employed in the Oliphant breaker, near this city, 50 per cent. were under fourteen years of age, and had others dependent on them.

At this juncture Dr. Roberts was temporarily withdrawn as witness and Dr. John O'Malley, of Scranton, counsel for the mine workers, was then called. Dr. O'Malley, who was examined by John Shes, of counsel for the mine workers. After stating his connection with several hospitals of the anthracite district, the doctor testified very little to his support. His testimony regarding the causes of miners' asthma, etc., was substantially the same as that given by the preceding witness. The effect of particles of coal getting into the lungs of the men, he said, was substantially the same as that of dust in the lungs of a horse, and eventually a peculiar form of consumption.

"What is the average life of a miner?" Commissioner Wright asked. "Very few get over fifty years," Dr. O'Malley replied. "I mean after he begins to work?" "Twenty-five or thirty years."

When asked if it were true that all people who were employed in the coal mines are likely to have a pale, anemic appearance, the doctor said that if the statements he had to-day heard were true, the lack of sunlight would not contribute to any great extent to the miner's condition, because the companies claimed the men left their room before noon.

Mr. Warren detailed the better conditions which exist in the mines now with respect to purer ventilation, and the duties of the fire boss who precedes the men in the mines, but the doctor said he could not see how the purity of the air could be increased without increasing the drafts and consequently increasing the exposure of the miner to rheumatism, pneumonia, etc.

His experience had been that catarrh, asthma, rheumatism, stomach troubles, pneumonia, catarrh, lumbago, anemias, etc., were the diseases from which miners usually suffered.

Asked to minutely describe miners' asthma, he said that it was a condition due to inhalation of great quantities of coal dust, powder smoke and vitiated air.

Questioned as to whether or not the disease was curable, the doctor stated that the fatalities resulting from it were slight, but that the likelihood of its producing some fatal disease was common. The effect of asthma, he said, was very debilitating, it disturbs nutrition, and the person suffering from it had a gaunt, emaciated appearance rendering it impossible for the miner to do good work. There were but few, he said, who could escape even moderate attacks.

On cross-examination by Mr. Torrey, of the Delaware and Hudson Company, Dr. O'Malley admitted that while the miners were very frequently taken into the mines for relief and that asthmatic patients are usually long lived.

AMERICAN WOMAN KILLED.

Shot in the Apartments of a Russian Singer in Paris—Declared to Have Been Accidental.

By Telegram to the Morning Star.
PARIS, November 20.—Helen Gore, said to be an American, was killed by a revolver yesterday in an apartment occupied by Jean DeRydzinski, a singer of the Imperial Theatre of St. Petersburg. DeRydzinski at first said that his wife committed suicide, but subsequently he declared the revolver went off accidentally. Consul General Gowdy is personally investigating the death of Miss Gore, who was completing a musical education here and resided in the fashionable quarter of Passy. When found yesterday evening the victim was lying on the floor in a pool of blood, wound over her right eye. Two doctors were summoned to attend her, but she died without regaining consciousness. The police have accepted the theory of the young Russian singer who was in the room at the time, that the shooting was the result of an accident during a soiree for possession of the weapon.
